Dear Prospective Colleague,

Thank you for considering this role.

St Paul's Brixton is set in a vibrant and changing part of Brixton and has a big heart to reach out to its community. There are great opportunities in working in the local estates as well as reaching out to the incoming young professionals who are choosing to live in Brixton.

However, there is much to be done and this is not a post for a first incumbent. You will need skill, tenacity, an entrepreneurial heart, and an ability to build the confidence of the congregation to unite around an exciting vision for change.

But you won't be on your own. The newly appointed Dean of Revitalisation, Rev Charlie Lamont will work closely with the parish and new incumbent, mentoring and supporting, to bring renewal and revitalised mission.

The deanery, Lambeth North, is active and a supportive group of colleagues. The patron is the Church Society.

There are possibilities too of working with Holy Trinity Clapham, sharing resources and developing fellowship.

For the right person, this is a great opportunity to make a difference for the gospel in an exciting and diverse part of South London.

Please pray about it and get in touch with the Archdeacon Simon Gates (07730 363267, simon.gates@southwark.anglican.org), Charlie Lamont (Charles.Lamont@southwark.anglican.org), or myself if you'd like an informal conversation.

Yours,

+ Martin

Rt Revd Dr Martin Gainsborough
