Edmundbyers: Up to 25% (from within the group, on Sundays when there is no service at their local church, and larger percentage for major festivals)

Muggleswick: 25%. St Matthew's Waskerley, especially, attracts people with connections to the previous railway community

(b) Describe the congregation in terms of age, employment, culture, ethnicity and gender:

Edmundbyers: Mostly retired (over 70), female (3 or 4 regular male attendees), white British

Muggleswick: over 40yrs, retired, farm, work from home or commute.

2. Please describe the tradition of your church and give details of robes/vestments worn by officiants: Low Anglican; cassock and surplice or alb, and stole.

Muggleswick: All Saints - monthly family type service (weather permitting).
St Matthew's - carol and Harvest services only 2023/2024

Both parishes prefer the traditional version of the Lord's Prayer and neither has ever adopted the custom of physically sharing The Peace

Edmundbyers: occasional Holy Days, as arranged

Edmundbyers: fundraising events such as a summer fête and raffle and Christmas raffle (these are very well supported by the community and raised £1325 in 2023), monthly coffee mornings (more for social outreach purposes), Easter egg hunt, concerts. Weddings and funerals are few, but bring welcome income.

Muggleswick: MPCA (CIO) donates half its fundraising to All Saints' and St Matthew's.

8.(a) Give details of expenses paid to the incumbent, and state whether this covers them in full. This will need re-negotiating. Previously the incumbent's expenses were divided between all the churches in the Moorland Group and we paid the amount requested. We would expect a similar arrangement.

Edmundbyers: We are working towards a major project to refurbish the church roof and to provide better heating, lighting and other facilities (small kitchen, toilet, storage) within the building. The steering group is helped by a church architect and a local freelance funding advisor.

Muggleswick: All Saints' camping project to provide accommodation, for pilgrims in particular, and other appropriate facilities. Planning permission from Durham County Council was granted 17/1/24 and a Faculty 2023 for the Camping project.

Waskerley: the future of St Matthew's is still under discussion. The sale of the building has been considered as it depends heavily on All Saints for its upkeep. It is something of an anomaly, having never had a faculty and its precise standing is unclear.

X. Additional Information

Please add here, or on another sheet, anything else which you would like the Patron and the Bishop to know about the conditions, needs and traditions of the parish.

Muggleswick and Edmundbyers have been closely linked since at least the Middle Ages. Muggleswick was the location of a grange belonging to Durham Cathedral Priory (some upstanding ruins remain and archaeological excavations have been undertaken) and has not had a “nucleated” village since the 14th century. At the Dissolution it was divided between 5 of the Prebends of Durham Cathedral with the result that it mainly consists of scattered farms. Edmundbyers remained nucleated with most farms situated within the village and running a gradually disappearing variation of the mediaeval strip field system, of which there is now little evidence. Waskerley was an important railway village on the Stanhope-Tyne Railway. When the railway closed the village was demolished apart from a few buildings; St Matthew’s is one of those remaining and was built at the request of Muggleswick to serve the people of Waskerley. It is still cared for by the parish of Muggleswick.

The two parishes have worked amicably together with one PCC for many years but maintain separate identities and finances for all 3 churches.

Despite the new Derwent Valley Group of parishes having more in common than in the previous grouping, each parish/church is very different in character and has different traditions. At St Edmund’s we have inherited a simple church, both in building and practices. Edmundbyers and Muggleswick tend to prefer a more traditional approach, probably due to the strong Non-Conformist influence in this area since the mid-seventeenth century.

Muggleswick, as stated, mostly consists of scattered farmsteads and dwellings which bring the parish its own character but there is still a strong community element. Edmundbyers has a rather strange character - even the longer term residents (30 years plus) comment on this. It broadly divides into those who engage with church and community and those who only sleep here. Most do engage, at least by attending events if not running them, but tend to be older, probably because they have more time, although some of the younger residents are community-minded. There are relatively few younger couples with young children. People who stay for more than a year or two tend to move in, their children grow up and leave home but the parents remain. Possibly more than half the residents are over retirement age although many are very active in the church and community. They might be older in years but they are not elderly in their activities and interests and are prominent on the PCC, village hall committee and W.I.

Both parishes are much more proactive and forward-looking than in the past, working at engaging more with the wider community, partly through the very good village halls and, in Edmundbyers, starting to forge a closer relationship with the W.I.

St Edmund’s steering group has only recently begun to work on the actions required for the repairs and renovations to the church building but has a vision in place and we are currently collecting information to enable us to apply for a faculty and funding. The new incumbent would not be expected to take responsibility for this project as it is already in hand, but their support would be most welcome. All Saints’, Muggleswick, is further forward with their project, having started it earlier. Good progress has been made, despite some setbacks, and some funding has been secured. Again, the support of the new incumbent will be welcomed.

St Edmund’s is proud to have been the first church in the country to receive the Aspire Award for good governance. This award was developed as part of the Rural Churches for Everyone project in Newcastle Diocese and is similar to the Hallmark award given to village halls.

XI. The new parish priest

List the qualities and skills you would like to see the new priest:

- 1) Vision for our small rural parishes, friendliness, empathy, listening skills, energy and a good sense of humour.*
- 2) Willingness to get to know us and our ways, understanding that rural areas differ from urban parishes, then to have the skill to work with us and help us develop,*
- 3) A presence in our communities, able to engage with everyone, whether or not they are currently part of church life.*
