

The Bishop of Lincoln

Holy Trinity, Boston

A message from the Bishop of Lincoln

I am delighted that you are exploring a sense of calling to ministry in the Diocese of Lincoln and it is a pleasure to introduce the parish profile for Holy Trinity, Boston.

The shared direction of travel for the Diocese of Lincoln is one of partnership. We want to see creative and intentional partnerships between churches, people and ministers of every kind across Greater Lincolnshire. At installation of every new minister in our Diocese, we make a commitment to God in prayer:

‘...to do apart nothing which we can do together,
and to do together what we cannot do apart...’

I am looking forward to making an appointment to the parish of Holy Trinity, and working with the next incumbent to see the good news of the kingdom shared, and lives transformed by the love of Christ in Boston and the surrounding communities.

One of the building blocks of our diocesan life is recognising the distinctive callings of each church. For a church like Holy Trinity, we use the language of ‘key mission church’ because we believe that Holy Trinity has the capacity to be a flourishing centre of mission and ministry both for the parish and also for the wider area.

Like every church in the diocese, Holy Trinity is part of a Local Mission Partnership (LMP) which provides a network for the building-up of people and places. The new incumbent of Holy Trinity Boston will discover, as part of the northern LMP for the Boston area, the support of colleagues both lay and ordained, as well as a desire to accomplish more together in the service of Christ.

May the Holy Spirit guide you as you discern the next chapter in your life and ministry.

Yours ever in Christ,

The Rt Revd Stephen Conway
Bishop of Lincoln
